NEPHRONET® INDUSTRY FORUM

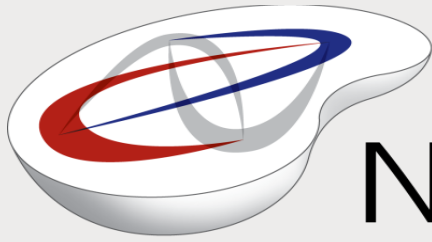

Welcome to NephroNet® Industry Forum

NephroNet® is putting together a unique event to bring key opinion leaders in renal research and interested industry representatives to come together and talk about challenges in the design and conduct of the clinical trials in nephrology, specifically in the areas of diabetic kidney disease and glomerulonephritis.

The forum allows open debate and discussion with renowned leaders in the field of relevant areas in chronic kidney disease.

October 1-3, 2015
Gaylord Texan Resort and Convention Center
Grapevine, Texas

NephroNet[®]

During this two day event sponsors will come together with leading nephrologists who have expertise in diabetic nephropathy and glomerulonephritis, and who have decades of clinical trial experience in these areas.

These workshops are dedicated to a discussion between these experts and industry representatives to help drive innovation in nephrology.

Your donation to NephroNet[®] (a 501c3 non-profit organization) gives you dedicated access to top tier key opinion leaders in the field, who can discuss your product, and provide insight regarding study protocol design, as well as share the “lessons learned” from prior failures in CKD trials.

Who should attend?

- Clinical scientists
- Regulatory specialists
- Medical Team
- Protocol Medical Monitors

Your generous donation to NephroNet[®] (a 501c3 non-profit organization) will still give you access to the leading renal research consortium. There will be networking sessions both days that will allow you the opportunity to discuss protocol design and future patient access.

Forum Objective

To produce relevant data from controlled clinical trials that will contribute to better clinical care

To understand the problems associates with making decisions about what constitutes relevant information, how to improve clinical trials and, as is commonly the case, how to satisfy regulatory authorities.

Forum Topics

- Diabetic Kidney Disease
- Glomerulonephritis

Group discussions will be facilitated by NephroNet leaders. Each biopharmaceutical industry will present their emerging new treatments for DKD and GN to small groups of NephroNet members who see and treat these patients every day. Input and written summaries will be given to each biopharmaceutical at the conclusion of the forum.

Continued contractual support for protocol design and access to leading research sites are available.
